

Initial fear

We knew a man who based it all, his whole philosophy of life on — what he claimed, let's get that clear — was the simple fact requiring nowt but humour in all, even in those awkward times and situations where of necessity dancing on a pinhead ought to be enough.
It should be, I know, but isn't that damn easy to understand and only those with all the nous available under the stars dare to believe for more than a second that try as we might it cannot be pulled off today or any other day.