

Too much, too much

Onomatopoeia?

I don't much like the sound of it.

I really don't.

What is it? What can it be?

Some kind of Japanese cuisine?

An intricate, new, more ethical way of saying sorry?

Some advanced philosophy that's all the rage in Paris and New York?

A scalp complaint?

I don't much like the sound of it.

I really don't.
